

Where to Put The Christmas Gift Books

These handsomely bound gift books that Christmas has brought to you as expressions of love and friendship, deserve protection commensurate with their sentimental if not intrinsic value. Keep them looking well cared for by housing them in—

Globe-Wernicke

Sectional Bookcases

—where they will be safe against the ravages of dust and climatic conditions.

Perhaps this Christmas has caused your library to outgrow its quarters, an impossibility with a Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcase, as another section can be added at small cost, to care for the new volumes.

We carry a representative stock of these cases and shall consider it a pleasure to demonstrate their merits.

Call and see them; or 'phone and our representative will show you by catalog. Sole agents for Barre.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Visit Abbott's bargain basement. William Abbott, a member of the truckmen's Barre local, who has been truck-seriously ill at his room in the A. Tomasi block for several weeks, was removed to the City hospital last evening in A. W. Badger & company's ambulance.

Dr. H. Nelson Jackson of Burlington, who, with his brother, S. Hollister Jackson, recently purchased a half interest in the E. L. Smith company's quarries on Millstone hill, arrived in the city last evening and is staying at Hotel Barre for a few days. With Donald Smith, Dr. Jackson went to Graniteville this morning to look over the quarries.

R. D. McLeod, who has been in charge of the ticket office at the Central Vermont station for the past 10 days, returned last night to Bolton, where he is employed as station agent. Miss Lillian Roberts, who has been detained at her home in Northfield by illness, has returned to Barre and resumed her duties at the ticket office this morning.

Barre granite is to be adequately represented at several state retail conventions to be held this week. Alexander Young of Young Brothers left the city this morning for Philadelphia, Pa., where he is to attend the annual mid-winter meeting of the Pennsylvania Retail Monument Dealers' association. James Gearson of the Gearson & Lane turning works in Burnham's meadow is in Trenton, N. J., where a meeting of New Jersey monument dealers is in progress. To-morrow Secretary Harold P. Hinman of the Granite Manufacturers' association expects to go to Bridgeport, Conn., where he is to be one of the speakers at the Connecticut retailers' convention.
